Edit: I'm turning off comments because nothing being said has anything to do with the topic of volunteering to make the changes people want to see. It's all a blame game where everything is someone else's issue. I'm trying to make a real difference and can't get there on my own.

Come volunteer for a committee! We need some new ideas and community involvement. Most committees just have 1 meeting a month so it's not too time consuming. If you have any questions let me know!
