Attorney General Raul Labrador assisted Representative Brandon Mitchell with campaign interference this October, 2024, as illustrated by the attached email correspondence below (and previous email).

Brandon Mitchell contacted Raul Labrador to seek guidance in violating my first amendment civil rights when I commented on Brandon Mitchells Facebook Campaign Page that I witnessed the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 10 President Andrew Fox taking bribes from Tim Krueger after I was assaulted at work.

To gain legal guidance from Attorney General Labrador before being elected most certainly is a violation of a few dozen campaign laws.

Likewise, for the Idaho LSO office to deny lawful certification of the FOIA being produced, in which Brandon Mitchell admits to receiving such guidance from the AG on at least two occasions, besides naming other government officials who have divulged otherwise protected information points to a much larger issue of election corruption.

To whom do I address these campaign violation questions?

I believe that this bears repeating this important question.

To whom do I direct campaign violation questions?

Sincerely,

Mr. Corey M Switzer

And what about violations that aren't financial?

I'm speaking about Idaho State Statute, Title 18, Chapter 23, Section 1, and Section 19.

Representative Brandon Mitchell has received legal assistance or guidance from Attorney General Raul Labrador before being elected.

To whom do I address this malfeasance?

Mr. Switzer,

The local county prosecutor would be the appropriate office to reach out to.

Thank you,

Which county do I need to address the improprieties committed by Raul Labrador, as acting AG, and the person that initiated the interference?

I already know that I need to address Brandon Mitchell with Latah county.

Thank you!

I understand.

It's not everyday that the Attorney General commits election interference.

Still, I'm going to ask the Sunshine office in how to proceed as election campaign interference is still under the purview of the Sunshine election office.

I'm specifically referencing the campaign malfeasance committed by the Attorney General in giving legal guidance to someone who hadn't been elected yet.

That guidance resulted in Representative Brandon Mitchell blocking me on social media and violating my first amendment rights as determined under the United States Supreme Court ruling Lindke V Freed and O'Connor-Radcliff V Gariner.

I know that I'll need to address Brandon Mitchell in Latah county. I need to know exactly where, in which court, to address the malfeasance committed by Raul Labrador while working in his capacity as Attorney General in campaign interference by malfeasance.
